Assistant Engineer

Eetarp – Singapore

Are you a passionate programmer with a drive for innovation? Ready to work on cutting-edge technology while earning a competitive high salary?

Eetarp is looking for an ambitious Assistant Engineer to join our Singapore team! This is your chance to grow in a dynamic, fast-paced environment where your skills make an impact. If you're eager to level up your career with hands-on experience and real challenges, apply now and be part of something exciting!

Job Responsibilities:
- Ensure maintenance activities are carried out according to planned schedule
- Prepare maintenance report
- Parts replacement on site when necessary
- Provide necessary support to engineer for project execution
- Support engineer to conduct testing & commissioning on site
- Assistant for control panel assemble when necessary

Job Requirements:
- Basic knowledge and skills in computer knowledge
- Basic knowledge on electrical system
- Good interpersonal skill
- Strong troubleshooting skill and analytical mind
- Self-motivated and team player
- Entry level candidates are welcome to apply
- At least 1 Year(s) of working experience in the related field is required for this position.

Employment Type
Full time
40 hours per week
Mo-Fr: 9am – 6pm

Compensation
+ AWS
+ Bonus
Medical Benefit
Insurance + Check ups
(incl. Dental)
Training intern/extern
(overseas)